January of the new millennium brought record weather patterns to the southeast. Some counties in North Carolina were buried in over two feet of snow and ice, shutting down some school systems for weeks. Elon was forced to have a delayed class schedule three days during winter term; exams were cancelled on January 25 and rescheduled the day after.

Orientation

Copy written by Carrie Ryan

The last weekend in August was one of new faces on Elon's campus as 1120 new students moved into the residence halls. The freshman class is one of the most academically successful and worldly classes to ever enroll at Elon. Thirty-five states and 15 countries are represented. The class consists of 64% females and 8% minorities. The average high school GPA was 3.4 and the average SAT score was 1105; 51% of the class were in the top quarter of their high school class and 18% were part of the top 10th percentile. Seven percent are part of Elon's Fellows Program.

FLOYD

Floyd was one of six major hurricanes to hit the North Carolina Coast in the past ten years. Past hurricanes include Hugo (1989), Fran and Bertha (1996), Bonnie (1998), and Dennis (1999).

Floyd hit September 15 with 110 m.p.h. winds and dumped over 15 inches of rain. These combined to form floods of historic proportions. The level of flooding was like nothing anyone had ever seen in North Carolina.

Nearly 480,000 homes and businesses were left without electricity. Over 1000 people were stranded in trees and on rooftops. Many areas looked like war zones and President Clinton agreed as he declared 60 North Carolina counties disaster areas.

At least five deaths were attributed to the storm. Experts estimated that losses would surpass that of Bertha, which caused $1.7 million in damages, but would be less than that of Fran, which caused $6 billion in damages.

Public Safety Secretary Richard Moore stated, "What we're asking people to do is basically observe a 'closed' sign for all of North Carolina east of Interstate 95."

While Elon saw no major flooding, the college did catch a few heavy rain storms and high winds during the week of the hurricane. Students also enjoyed a day off thanks to Floyd, which ironically turned out to be one of the nicest days of the semester.

110 years / 8 presidents = 1 school's tradition of commitment

Copy written by Jon Rahilly

Over 1000 people gathered September 12, 1999, for the ecumenical service celebrating the religious heritage of Elon College, as well as the inauguration of Leo M. Lambert. Lambert is Elon's eighth president in its 110 year history. He is also only the second president to receive an inauguration, the original being Earl Danieley, who served as president from 1957 to 1973.

Chaplain McBride led the service. The high point of the sermon came when McBride touched on a new tradition started by Lambert. "Every new student is given an acorn to remind each one that they have enormous potential and that Elon is just the right place to discover all that they have been gifted to be and become, that Elon is just the right place to season of growth. He also spoke of the Building in 1923, people who helped

Alma Mater

*Sons of Elon, daughters too,
Bring their praise and homage true.
In thy keeping there will be
Words and deeds to honor thee.
Hearken to the song they're singing,
And the loyalty they're bringing.
Alma Mater, they will cherish thee;
Alma Mater, they will cherish thee.*

The Inaugural Convocation for Lambert took place on September 15, 1999 in Elon's Koury Center. Elon's musicians and chamber singers were on hand to lead in the singing of Elon's Alma Mater. The Keynote Address was given by the Honorable James B. Hunt, Jr., the governor of North Carolina. The Oath of Office was then given, followed by the presentation of the Presidential Medallion and Lambert's response.

Lambert, when asked about the four-day celebration replied, "This is a once-in-a-lifetime experience.... It is more of a celebration of Elon College than anything else- a time to reflect its past."

A Year of Dedications

Copy written by Carrie Ryan

An extremely important event to go down in history at Elon at the start of the new millennium was the dedication of the new library. The library is officially named the Carol Grotnes Belk Library. The new library houses thousands of books, as well as Media Services, the Writing Center, Tutoring and other multimedia services offered to students. There are also a number of computer labs open for student use with Macs and PCs.

The library was officially opened to student use on January 31, 2000 with a book passing. Starting at the old McEwen Library, a line of students, faculty, staff and community members passed 100 symbolic books through campus, across Haggard Avenue and to the door of the new Belk Library. The head of the line boasted Earl Danieley, while Leo Lambert was at the end. The historic line garnered local and national news coverage.

Intramural Fields

Smith Jackson with a frisbee, Gerald Whittington with a frisbee, Peggy Page with a softball, Brannock Page with a rugby ball, Bill Loy with a football and Dr. Leo Lambert with a soccer ball have the honor of making the first play of the game during the intramural field dedication on October 26, 1999. Elon acquired the 14 acres of land through the efforts of Peggy and Brannock Page and Bill Loy.

Homecoming and Halloween were two events that coincided this year at Elon as both fell on the last weekend of October.

People could be seen in anything from prom dresses for the homecoming dance to cat woman for the ghoulish events of Halloween.

Homecoming is a week-long event with a variety of activities each day. It is a time for alumni to come back to see old friends and to remember their times at Elon. For current students it is a time to meet some of the alumni and to enjoy one of the greatest Elon traditions.

The reunion classes represented this year were 1939, 1949, 1954, 1959, 1964, 1969, 1974, 1979, 1984, 1989, and 1994. Over 800 alumni came home to Elon to participate in the festivities.

The most celebrated tradition of Homecoming is the election of the Homecoming King and Queen. This year's winners were Michelle Wideman for queen and George Dennis for king. There was an excellent turnout for the football game in which Elon beat Charleston Southern.

On Halloween, students could be seen e e n partying on Elon's campus as well as at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill and East Carolina.

BLESSED UNION OF SOULS

Copy written by Jon Rahilly

Hundreds of students and faculty gathered on the lawn in front of Koury Center for a free concert put on by the band Blessed Union of Souls. The performance was held on September 23, 1999, Elon's Service Day.

The Montgomery Burns Band opened with a short set of their most popular songs during which they thanked Blessed Union and Elon College. MBB cleared the stage and an excited crowd awaited the day's main attraction. Blessed Union played a close to perfect one and half hour set, the only problem coming when the band's lead singer accidentally turned off his microphone.

The most memorable moment came when the band played an upbeat remix of "I Believe," which received a standing ovation from the appreciative crowd.

The band stayed after the show to sell merchandise and meet the crowd, as well as autograph posters of the cover of their latest album.

Blessed Union of Souls is originally from Cincinnati, Ohio, where music from their first album, Home, first got air time. Since then, they have released two albums, the second being self titled, and their most recent called Walking Off The Buzz.

The Montgomery Burns Band was the opening act for Blessed Union of Souls at the free concert held on the first Elon Service Day. However, the concert was not the first appearance of MBB at Elon; the band is a regular act at the Lighthouse bar. Their newest album, Perfect Somewhere, was released to the public at the Lighthouse on March 4, 2000.

EDWIN McCAIN

Edwin McCain honored Elon's campus with an acoustic set in the intimate surroundings of Whitley Auditorium on November 4. The set lasted for more than two hours during which he accepted requests from the audience. In the end he played almost all his songs out on the market. He made the concert even more intimate by talking to the audience and telling personal stories.

His set included the hit song "I'll Be." He ended the concert after a double encour, with the final encour a solo.

Prior to the concert, McCain was kind enough to meet with Elon's media organizations for interviews. A variety of topics were discussed during the forty-five minute interview. Questions included why he chose to play at Elon, where he grew up, and if he always knew he wanted to be a music artist. His charm and personal stories were captivating and made the point that despite being a music legend, he is also just a guy who likes to have a good time doing what he loves - playing music.

The lead singer of Blessed Union of Souls, Eliot Sloan, had only one mishap during the concert when his microphone was accidentally turned off.

Family Weekend

Copy written by Lesley Chesson

Every year Elon College dedicates one weekend to the parents and families of the students and every year parents from all over the country come to visit their children at school. This year the weekend fell on October 1st to 3rd. Elon played New Haven at home on Saturday, giving parents a chance to see the Elon Fighting Christians football team in action.

While parents visited their college students, the younger children of the family could enjoy activities especially for them. Here some of the siblings create a banner with the message "Stomp the Chargers" to be hung at the football game later that day.

The Elon College grounds crew worked diligently to prepare the campus for Family Weekend, as evident by the Welcome sign and blooming flowerbed. Many families stopped to enjoy the beauty of the campus and to rest their legs after walking all over campus.

Faces of the Millennium

Chaplain McBride led the Festival of Lights Ceremony with Christmas carols, hot chocolate, and the lighting of the luminaries. The ceremony took place December 2, 1999 at 7pm.

On a windy and cold January day, Elon faculty, staff and students formed a human chain from the old McEwen Library to the new Belk Library. The purpose of the chain was to transfer the first one hundred books into the new library before it officially opened in February.

*I often wonder to which extreme that I can be found.
My heart leads me one way that my mind will never see.
And in these past years I have grown to comprehend,
That I am no more to you than you are to me.
Certainly, I have dreamed that we could all unite
As brother and sister, as races committed to harmony.
I have felt the joy and had the fear that affects us all.
Yet, I am not more to you than you are to me.
Friends walk side by side to help when others fall.
We are to treasure one another, (one of humanity's proven truths).
If two hands are held together, the other two are free
Yet I am not more to you than you are to me.
Life is too short and to brief to delay
Tear down humanity's tensions and build up prosperity.
I may be nothing to you, but you are EVERYTHING to me.*

In Memory Of...

...Fred Fendale, director of landscaping, died June 9, 1999, after a battle with cancer. Fred was recognized for his work and leadership in developing and maintaining Elon's outstanding grounds during his six years on the college staff. The Elon community praised Fred for his landscaping skills, dedication to the college, friendly nature, and many talents, including music and Spanish language skills. The college dedicated a bench on campus in memory of its colleague and friend--Fred Feudale.

Last year Elon was even better. The College saw the opening of its first cultural center, El Centro de Español de Elon College. El Centro, as many have come to know it, started off with a bang. Students, faculty, staff, and members of the community visited El Centro to participate in the fiestas, salsa dancing, Spanish lessons, and tutoring.

If you ever happen to pass by, just stop on in and say, "Hola!" It's guaranteed to be one of the highlights of your day.

This year was different; if last year was awesome for El Centro, then this one

Last year Elon College saw the debut of our own Oktoberfest. The annual event is presented by the Department of Foreign Languages and performed by their students and staff. It is a forum in which food, art, and cultures from all over the world are showcased. The event was held on the 26th of October, and this year's line-up saw more of the creative original skits, literary adaptations, and music performances.

Perhaps the highlights of this year were the first time events which included a German beer song, a tongue-twister session, and a martial arts demonstration. The various languages and cultures represented this year included: Japanese, Spanish, French, German, and Chinese.

This year's program was as follows:

"At a Restaurant in Japan"
"Classroom"
"Calilla e Demma"
"Buscando a Osito"
"Au Restaurant"
"Un Déjeuner"
"Un Rendez-vous Inattendu"
"Au Restaurant JJ"
Musique de François Couperin
"Le Petit Prince"
"Knock"
"Im Schlauffenland"
"Jerry Springer en

Français"
"Barbe Bleue"
"Le Jeu de l'amour"
"Le Problème de Nicole"
"Le Cambriolage"
"Un Voyage en Voiture"
"Un Accident"
"Trebalenguas en Español"
"El Licenciado Videra"
"Faire la Connaissance"
"All'Université"
"Le Certain Chinois"
A Tai Chi Demonstration

above. This year was all about road-tripping. Another group from the French 322 class explore the joys of the open road: getting lost, observing wildlife, and breaking down.

Perhaps two of the greatest experiences one may have at college are the opportunities to study abroad or intern.

Each semester and winter term hundreds of Elon students have that very opportunity. Students travel to "far away places" such as Japan, Australia, Ghana, Belize, or even Europe.

Many also have the opportunity to intern with major companies such as CNN, and even the White House, as in Tiffany Rosenfeld's case.

Or how about right here in the U.S. - many students from a vast and growing array of nations have chosen to come here to study, learn English, and experience "American Culture."

The center most point of a college campus and in a student's life over the course of four years is the library.

Though some may dread it, they ultimately must make regular pilgrimages to their library, a place they will come to know as well as their home.

About a year-and-a-half ago, Elon marked its expansionist era with the completion of McMichael Science Building and began the ground breaking for a new library. Last year we watched as the skeleton for Belk Library went up. Day by day the little changes were noted: the completion of the roof, the installation of the windows, the building of the promenade.

By the end of winter term and the beginning of the spring semester, the wait was over. Elon College had its new library completed in full. To commemorate this event, the students, faculty, staff, and members of the surrounding Elon College community formed a line stretching from the old Iris Holt McEwen Library to the new Belk Library, and passed 100 commemorative books from one building into the other.

Belk Library has made it through a successful metamorphosis to become the center for research here at Elon. It has also become one of the largest social centers on campus, as anyone who has visited there knows. Two words... "Quiet Please!"

Above. The Don Cossacks of Rostov give a stunning performance of Russian folk song and dance reflecting the lives of people who lived along the Don River.

Part of the "college experience" is the broadening of one's horizons. Here at Elon we are lucky to have the facilities and opportunity to do just that, through student groups, courses and special events arranged by the Office of Cultural Programs. In addition to the many performances given by the students, and faculty such as Elan and the Elon College Gospel Choir, many outside performers and speakers are brought in. Elon has hosted an array of spring artists: Don Cossacks of Rostov, performing many Russian folk music inspired by the lives of Russian peasants; great classics performed by Freddy Cole, or even watching the revival of swing via the Ohio Ballet.

In both the students have the chance to showcase their talents in many types of events ranging from one-act plays written, directed, produced, and starring students; art exhibitions; recitals; and much more.

SPOTLIGHT EVENTS...

Copy by Antoinne Boyd

Each semester there is usually one grand performance that sticks out in everyone's mind. "Crazy For You" had to be that one great surprise of the fall. There was very little gossip and/or hype circulating about the show prior to its opening, which was a slight concern for some. This "silence" added with the complexities that come along with musicals, added an air of anticipation. From the first scene to the finale, anyone who went to see this truly outstanding performance was left in awe, completely captivated by the talent these actors displayed in bringing this story to life. It was truly amazing.

That was not the end of stunning performances from the Department of Performing Arts; they went from classic musicals, straight to Shakespeare. The presentation of "MacBeth" displayed the same outstanding quality in the spring as "Crazy For You" had in the fall. The audience was hooked from the introduction of the "weird" sisters, all the way through the battle scenes at the end. With two performances this year, next year should be even better.

The 1999 fall football season was the first Division I-AA season for Elon College. This change placed the Elon football team against teams from Furman and Samford as well as North Carolina A&T. The season started out a winning one with the first win coming against Furman, who at the end of the season was in the top 10 of the nation. The winning season continued for Elon and they went 9-2. This is the most wins that Elon football has had since 1981. Another record that was broken this year was 1,000 yards rushing in a season by Steven Ferguson. This record has not been broken since 1993. The season ended with a win against Morehead State, but the disappointment of not getting a bowl bid.

Moving up a division in college sports usually brings years of losing seasons before the level of play is raised. After losing the first three games that was the way this season looked like it was going. "We started with a rough start, but after getting a couple of wins together, we started working hard to accomplish what we did," said Erin Lautermilch. This team won the Big South Conference tournament and received a bid to the NCAA tournament in their first year being eligible. After not scoring in the first two games of the tournament, and winning them in shootouts, Marissa Veuti scored three goals, including one in overtime to win the Big South championship. They then lost a close battle to 22nd ranked Duke in the first round of the NCAA tournament.

Along with the team's success, three players also received special recognition. Erin Morse, Sommer Cork, and Erin Lautermilch made the All-National Team for first-year division one schools. Erin Morse was also the Big South Tournament MVP and First Team All-Conference. Erin Lautermilch and Sommer Cork were both Second Team All-Conference. This success will build confidence for the team in the years to come.

Few students truly appreciate the training required to compete in Division I cross country. In fact, only about twenty do. "The huge competition we face carries so much mental and physical challenge," said Garrett Ritz. "We've had to work harder since we moved up divisions, and even though we only improved a little this season, we'll be recruiting more and training over the summer to do better next fall," commented senior Kari Spiker. The Elon Volleyball team also had a challenging season. "I thought we did well. It was a big year for seniors; they played big roles in our success. The younger players also had to step up to contribute to the team," said freshman Laura Griffin. Senior Lori Fortune said the season, "brought friendships through good and bad times. We came together in the hard times to make the team succeed."

First season entering Division I usually means an "adjusting year." The 1999-2000 season was Elon's rookie year in Division I and the Big South Conference. Under the direction of coaches Mark Simons, Joel Haskins, and Sean Quinn, Elon finished their first season very well, with a record of 7-7 in the conference and 13-15 overall. Seniors Morgan Bell, George Dennis, and Clint Walker all contributed to this season's success.

Next year proves to be equally exciting; in addition to the current team, Elon has recruited strong freshmen.

With 13.4 points per game, Junior Loretta Lawson led Elon both in scoring and in 3-point field goals. Jayme Chikos watches as Loretta shoots another long shot.

Women's Basketball

Powerfully bouncing back from last season's 4-23 record, the women's basketball season concluded at 14-15 in its first NCAA Division I season. Although predicted to finish last in the conference, Elon accomplished impressive victories against returning champion Liberty University and runner-up Radford University to finish fifth in the regular season. At the Big South Conference Tournament, Elon defeated host UNC Asheville and set a tournament record in scoring defense, allowing only 39 points. "This team has been the most fun to work with- they are very alive and energetic, and it shows on the court," said Senior Jami White. While teamwork is essential, individual players made personal accomplishments such as Loretta Lawson's Second Team All-Big South and Jayme Chikos' Big South All-Rookie titles. With this progress, Elon will be a key contender in the Big South in years to come.

Even with the harder schedule the team went 32-22 through the regular season, where last year's team was well below .500. The 2000 season of Elon softball was the first in Division I and as part of the Big South Conference. This was not the best season for the team but they did have some good wins throughout the year. Gold team cheerleaders Michelle Simmonds and Veronica Childress start the year off with a pep rally to introduce fall sports.

The challenging tosses and throws performed by the cheerleading squad were a major part of the Elon sporting event experience.

Congratulations, Yolly:

It doesn't seem that long ago that you were just a little girl. You have grown up into a lovely young lady. Sometimes it's hard to let go of your little ones, but then you realize they are not little anymore. Never lose sight of your dreams! I am so proud of the person that you have become. I'll miss you more than you will probably admit! Continue to be true and kind, and honest with yourself. Remember, choices are the hinges of destiny. You are my sunshine! I love you with all my heart. Let God be your focus in every endeavor and know Jesus is with you today and forever. I will always love you!

Mommy

Congratulations, Marc.

May all your dreams come true. We are very proud of you. Thank you. We love you.

The achievement you celebrate,
is but a step,
an opening of opportunity,
to the greater triumphs and achievements that await you.

Be brave enough
and wise enough to grasp this opportunity and accept the challenge of the future.

Jessica,

We wish you the best. For you are the message we send to a world which we will never see. And when you finally fly away, we'll be hoping that we served you well. But whatever road you choose, we're behind you.

“Nothing in the world can take the place of persistence. Talent will not; nothing is more common than unsuccessful men with talent. Genius will not; unrewarded genius is almost a proverb. Education will not; the world is full of educated derelicts. Persistence and determination alone are omnipotent.”

ELON

PHOENIX.

THROUGHOUT HISTORY THERE IS TOLD THE LEGEND OF THE RARE AND REMARKABLE PHOENIX, A CRIMSON AND GOLD BIRD THAT LIVED 500 YEARS. IT WAS SLEEK, SWIFT AND STRONG - THE MOST MARVELOUS BIRD EVER CREATED BY HUMAN IMAGINATION. AT THE END OF ITS LIFE, WITH DEATH APPROACHING, IT BUILT A NEST IN AN OAK TREE AND WAS CONSUMED BY FLAMES IGNITED BY THE SUN. FROM THE ASHES EMERGED THE NEXT PHOENIX - REBORN AND RENEWED, WITH STRENGTH FORGED IN FIRE.

FIRE, TOO, HAS SHAPED THE HISTORY OF ELON COLLEGE. THE DISASTROUS FIRE OF 1923 ALL BUT DESTROYED ELON. GONE WERE MAIN BUILDING, COLLEGE RECORDS, CLASSROOMS, THE LIBRARY AND CHAPEL. BUT WITHIN DAYS OF THE FIRE, ELON TRUSTEES SET IN MOTION THE PLAN FOR ELON TO RISE FROM THE ASHES, STRONGER THAN EVER.

THE PHOENIX IS A POWERFUL LEADER AND AN EMBLEM OF IMMORTALITY. IT IS A PERFECT SYMBOL FOR A SCHOOL THAT IS CONSTANTLY RENEWING AND RE-CREATING ITSELF.

THE ELON MOTTO, NUMEN LUMEN, EMBRACES INTELLECTUAL AND SPIRITUAL LIGHT. AND SO TOO, THROUGHOUT HISTORY, THE PHOENIX HAS SERVED AS A SYMBOL OF LIGHT AND KNOWLEDGE.

THE PHOENIX IS TIMELESS AND UNIQUE. IT PERFECTLY DESCRIBES AN ATHLETICS PROGRAM AND AN INSTITUTION THAT ARE RISING TO NEW LEVELS OF EXCELLENCE.

THERE IS ONLY ONE PHOENIX. THERE IS ONLY ONE ELON. CATCH THE FIRE!

ELON COLLEGE

Helen Mackay announces Michelle Wideman's name as Dr. Leo Lambert hands her the diploma.

Sitting under the very same oak trees, 110 years ago sat three proud Elon students as they received their degrees, and on May 20, 2000, there were 814 graduates including the first class from the Master of Physical Therapy program. Change is something that this class is not unfamiliar with. They have seen many changes in themselves and the college during their time at Elon: the Danieley Center, Belk Library, McMichael Science Building, and the ground breaking of Rhodes Football Stadium. The final change for this year concluded the commencement ceremony. This was the graduation of the Fightin' Christian, Elon's proud mascot for more than 78 years. Now, the Phoenix will spread its wings and lead Elon to new heights. Dr. Isabella Cannon said it best when she challenged the class of 2000 to take every opportunity offered along with all the surprises!

Copy and Photos By Carrie Ryan

Elon's Isabella Cannon Leadership Program is named for the first female mayor of a capital city, Raleigh, in the United States. The class of 2000 was honored to have the 96-year-old deliver an energizing speech.

The 85th volume of the Elon College yearbook, Phi Psi Cli, was produced by a paid and volunteer staff. Phi Psi Cli was distributed free to the students on a first-come, first served basis in the fall of the year. No part of this book may be reproduced without the written consent of the adviser or the Elon College Media Board. The title Phi Psi Cli comes from the first three organizations started on campus.

Production:

The 160-page book was produced on one Power Macintosh 7200/75 using PageMaker 6.5. Pages were submitted to Herff Jones Publishing Company, based in Charlotte, NC using PageMaster software. Fifteen hundred copies were run.

Cover and Paper Stock:

The cover was designed by the Phi Psi Cli staff in the fall retreat. The litho cover with matte finish contains a black and white photo illustration by the Photography Editor. The binding was smyth sewn and endsheets were vibracolor with black ink print. The book was printed on 80 lb. gloss enamel paper.
